Senior From Batesburg Is Distinguished Winner in National French Essay Contest

Sara Rikard of Batesburg has been awarded first place in a National French Essay Contest—a seven weeks' stay studying French at Middlebury College, Vermont, July 1 through August 15. This is her second National French Essay prize.

Miss Rikard's essay, "Les Moeurs des Princes de la Monarchie," consisting of 2800 words, was written in French. Participants in the contest were members of the Beta Pi Theta chapter, National French Fraternity, of their respective colleges.

Miss Rikard received word last May 6 that she was one of the three contestants in a National French Essay Contest to win a trip to Europe. The paper receiving this award was written in English on "French Influence on Civilization and Culture in the United States." One hundred colleges entered this contest.

Her main stay, on this trip, was Paris. She also visited the battlefields, Versailles, Chartres, the exposition in Vincennes and stayed six days at the Loire Chateau. It was a rare, exciting and interesting trip.

Miss Rikard's success has given prominence to Winthrop, of which every Winthrop is proud. She is justly deserving of the recognition and commendation recorded here. She is, indeed, a promising young college woman whose remarkable talents may amount to much.

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA PLEASES AUDIENCE

Attractive and Artistic Concert Conducted By Mr. Gore Tuesday Evening

One of the outstanding events of the year took place last Tuesday evening when the Winthrop College orchestra appeared in concert in the Main Auditorium. Mr. Forrest Gore, professor of violin at the college, was the conductor.

The organization is composed of forty-four members, most of whom are private pupils of Mr. Gore. In the first time Mr. Gore has had charge of the orchestra, he has built it up into a surprisingly effective instrument. Balance of tone, carefulness of phrasing, and musically interpretation characterized the performance.

Miss Mary Dorothy Clawson, Sophomore in the violin department, appeared as soloist, playing very beautifully Schumann's Romance with orchestral accompaniment. Miss Clawson is an exceptionally gifted young violinist, playing with a beautiful tone and clean technique.

Miss Marie Taylor, Junior in the piano department, brought great credit to herself and to her teacher, Miss Ruth Schuchman, by her brilliant rendition of the second and third movements of the Mendelssohn Concerto in G minor.

"Probably the best number played by the orchestra was the 'Marriage of Figaro' Overture by Mozart in which the young musicians played with the finish and beauty of tone of a much older organization. A composition of Mr. Gore's which he has dedicated to the Winthrop Orchestra, pleased the audience so much that it had to be repeated.

Mr. Gore is to be highly congratulated on the excellent work he is doing with this organization.

Seniors Argue In Favor of League; Cynics Preceded to Chase of 1933

The annual I. R. C. debate on the question, "Resolved, that the League of Nations Should Be Scrapped," held in Johnson Hall, Friday night, April 28, between the Juniors and Seniors, was won by the affirmative side upheld by the Senior team, Emily Brothers, Marie Miller, and Lurline Hicks. The Junior team consisted of Grace Craig, Elizabeth Nicholson, and Eleanor Bell. The losing cup was presented to the class of 1933 by Caroline Schittler, president of the I. R. C.

The affirmative debaters laid their arguments on the following contentions: That the League of Nations is not what it was intended to be because of the exclusion of ex-enemies, because it does not include all the great powers of the world, because its members do not sincerely desire peace, because the reduction of armaments has not been carried out, and because the numerous violations of the covenant prove a lack of faith on the part of its members.

That the League has failed in the actual settlement of disputes, the Moroccan citizenship case between France and England, the Eastern Carolia dispute between Russia and Finland, French occupation of the Ruhr, the Polish-Lithuanian argument over Vilna, the Italian-Corfu incident, and in the recent Japanese Manchurian affair. That the League should be scrapped because it is based only on a treaty, because the defective machinery can be easily replaced by the machinery of the League of Nations.

The speaker of the negative gave the history of the League which intends to settle disputes peacefully, which is a necessary new movement, which has given rise to a practical need, and which works equally as shown in the Council and Assembly. The second speaker showed how the League has succeeded, and the third speaker declared that the League should be given a chance to prove its worth.

The rebuttals were especially good, showing remarkable technique, and clever, quick thinking.

Marie Miller is a member of the Strawberry Leaf and has participated in one intercollegiate debate the Leaf, and which works equally as shown in the Council and Assembly. The second speaker showed how the League has succeeded, and the third speaker declared that the League should be given a chance to prove its worth.

CHESTER CHAPTER ENTERTAINS
On Wednesday afternoon, April 20, Mrs. James P. Kinard, Miss Lella A. Russell, from Winthrop College, were the honor guests at a meeting of the Chester Chapter of Winthrop Daughters. On this occasion the Chapter entertained the Chester Garden Club.

The main feature of the program was an illustrated lecture on "Home Gardens of South Carolina," given by Mrs. James R. Cain (labeled Lindsay) of Columbia. Mrs. Cain showed slides of lovely gardens in Charleston, Aiken, Sumter, Manning, Columbia, Greenville, Spartanburg and Anderson.

At a rally meeting of the Union, Spartanburg and Laurens Chapters and alumnae from Clinton and Gaffney held at Union, on Thursday, April 21, the honor guests were Dr. J. W. Thomson, Miss Lella A. Russell and Mrs. Paul Workman, a sister to Dr. Johnson. All of these made short talks.

The hostesses were: Mrs. Frances Whitliffe Besty, president of the Northern District; Miss Evelyn Russell, president of the Union Chapter; and Mrs. Guy Wilburn, at whose home the meeting was held.

After the program, delightful punch and snowball cakes were served.

A "Who's Who," among the Winthrop Alumnae is the latest project begun by the association. The alumnae secretary is requesting each chapter of Winthrop Daughters to compile a list of all its members with a sketch written by the members themselves and a kodak snapshot of each. This material to be organized by chapter into a permanent record of both the graduates and non-graduates who make up Winthrop's 10,000 alumnae.

PRESS PRODUCES 14 COMPLETE NEWSPAPERS A SECOND
The new high-speed press, printing 10,000 to 15,000 papers an hour, is declared the most remarkable printing achievement of the twentieth century.

Henry A. Wise Wood, head of the Wood Newspaper Machinery Corporation, is the inventor. This perfected press, which is expected to revolutionize the newspaper business, is installed in the New York Times plant.

For continuous operation, it is the most perfect press that has yet been built. For without stopping or slowing the automatic process of printing, folding, cutting, and counting, seven complete newspapers each second; the flowing stream of paper is automatically replenished.

The great rotating cylinders, which convert the blank rolls of news print into daily records of contemporary history, are controlled by electricity and operated by a button. Mr. Wood says, "when a finger and a button will do a job otherwise done by man's arm and legs, I use the finger and button."

This press puts news on an earlier train and does it at a lower cost per 1,000 papers.

SONNET

When one is wandering over some lonely lane
In Spring, when every flower seems
Aglow
With life, and every blade of grass
Is so
Intent on growing fastest, and the rain
Has bathed all luxuriously the scene,
The way to be noble and to know
That all are equal and that none
Are low
Enough to fall to gain their bit of fame;

But oh! unfortunate it seems that this Same feeling cannot stay throughout the year.
'Twould be an odd old world to us with all
Ambitions, working toward that final bliss
of goals stretched heaven would be near—
Less dear than if we had not had it here.

TONIC FOR WOMEN

Nothing makes women old more rapidly than overwork—the reason, probably, that American women fade so soon. Sunshine, music, work and sleep, are the greatest medicines for women, who need more sleep than men. Their nerves are more sensitive; they are not so strong; and exhaustion from labor and pleasure takes place sooner with them than with men. Never permit yourself to be rounded out of a deep sleep in the morning. In fact, one should never be awakened. The body renews itself when its demands are satisfied. Take a warm bath occasionally before going to bed—at least once a week. Retire as soon as you feel sleepy in the evening; don't rouse yourself and go to work. You need rest, then, and will pay for the need rest then, and will pay for the trespass on your physical nature the next day if you do sleep—Abbeville Press and Banner, March 31, 1919.

PUBLIC CAUTIONS WARS

"It is not the military men who will draw the country into the next war, but the propaganda-fed public, who do not realize the large number of untruths presented in the average history book."—Lieut.-Col. William A. Gasece asserted yesterday, in an interview. "Eighty percent of the material in our history books which deals with war, is either false or misleading," he said. "Our college and high school histories are so partisan and misleadingly edited, that they fail to tell of the numbers of glorious losses we have had through ignorance of the vast art and science of battle. Today, the archives and the original documents are generally the only places where the truth about war can be found."—Boston University News.

DR. CRAWFORD, FIRST WINTHROP PHYSICIAN

A noble and Worthy Citizen—Crawford Infirmary & Monument to His Efforts

Dr. Thomas A. Crawford, a much loved and esteemed trustee of Winthrop College for 25 years, and the first physician of that great institution, was born in York County on the 14th day, 1853. He was the son of David Caldwell Crawford, also a South Carolinian. The latter, or heretage might be traced back two generations to Scotch-Irish parentage, an honored line of people, prominent in the religious and civil life of United States.

Dr. Crawford's mother was Miss Mary S. Hope, the second wife of David Caldwell Crawford, mother of a family of five. Dr. Caldwell was a student in the neighboring schools during his early youth, after which he entered King's Mountain Military School at Yorkville, in 1875. At the age of 23, he entered the medical department of the Central University of Kentucky, where he graduated two years later.

In 1878 he became a citizen of Rock Hill, S. C., and entered upon an active practice which he continued until 1883, when he took the post-graduate course at the Polytechnic Hospital of New York, returning to Rock Hill after his graduation. He was a trustee of Winthrop Normal and Industrial College from the time of its establishment in Rock Hill, and gave unstintingly of his time and knowledge to its general welfare as well as to its medical department, even though he was at that time maintaining a large and active medical practice. He was well known as a beloved physician and public-spirited citizen in this section, and kept up outside contacts with important national and international organizations. He was a member of the eighth international medical congress, of the state medical association and of the York County association, and was also a master.

He was a member and ruling elder of the First Presbyterian Church of Rock Hill, serving many years as an officer.

In 1884, he was married most happily to Mrs. Carrie Poe Irie of Pittsboro, N. C., by which marriage there were five sons and one daughter. His stepson is Mr. Peter Irie of this city.

Winthrop as well as the city of Rock Hill lost a valued citizen and physician in the death of Dr. Crawford in the 36th year of his age, December 16, 1919 after several years of failing health. The following is quoted from Rock Hill Herald.

"He was a citizen of outstanding uprightness of character; a professional man of unblemished record; a genial kindly gentleman whose life of friendship and service for people of his community and county is worthy of the man who lived it and is a precious legacy to his family and friends."

Compiled by clippings from numerous contemporary newspapers for Crawford Infirmary of Winthrop College.

Not Trust

Yale University

Of the graduates of this renowned school five years out of college, those who are selling bonds are receiving the highest salaries. The average for this group is something over $4,000 a year. Teachers in the class are getting the lowest pay, averaging only $2,000. There seems to be a moral to that.—The Chronicle.

FRESHMEN GIVE DANCE PROGRAM

Splendid Exhibition of Work Being Carried On in Physical Education Department

The Freshmen class made its debut in a display of group dances Thursday afternoon from four until five-thirty on the Main Athletic Field. These dances were a splendid exhibition of the work that is being carried on among the Freshmen in the Physical Education Department under the supervision of Misses Alene Sefton, Jane Couch, Frances Hoffman, and Lillian Welker.

The first part of the program consisted chiefly of the dances: Dances of Greeting, Kindness, Kindness, Norwegian Mountain March, Come Let Us Be Joyful, I see you, Sweet Cake, Gathering Near Poda.

After this, the Physical Education Majors demonstrated a May Pole Dance. The latter, seven jumps, a dance novelty that won high approval of the audience. This amusing number was rendered also by the Freshmen for the first time—and very effectively showed the ability and quickness of this class to respond and cooperate in such a manner as to give a delightful performance.

Other dances were then given. Ruffy Tuffy, Quilts Shoe, and the Irish Lilt made a grand finale after which the Freshmen united in a Paroade in order to be in one large group when the cup was awarded to the class which displayed the best training in their execution of the dances.

Section I won the cup. The members of this group were as follows: Atkinson, Avant, Ayers, Ballenger, Seibers, Black, Clark, Clement, C. W. or, Dumas, Ferguson, Foster, Foster, Fulton, Hardin, Harrison, Johnson, Leake, Linley, Long, Lyde, McDracken, McPherson, McSwain, Moore, Myerson, Rapier, Parrot, Reed, Rogers, Seabrook, Shirley, Study, Suber, Wiley.

ATTEND A. A. U. W. MEETING

MISSSES SANDERS AND STEWART IN RECITAL

Mary Rogers Assists in Program: Thursday Performance Last Recital of Year

The last graduating recital of the year was given Thursday evening by Misses Wills Sanders and Martha Stewart, pianists. They were assisted by Miss Mary Rogers, contralto. Miss Eleanor Blackmon accompanied Miss Rogers at the piano. The large audience in attendance was enthusiastic in its appreciation of the performance. Miss Sanders' numbers were played in a masterful manner. The lovely effects she produced were the result of precision of touch along with a subtle understanding of her art.

Miss Stewart gave a colorful and vivid rendition of her numbers. Her playing was thoroughly musically both in technique and interpretation. Miss Rogers' rich contralto voice delighted the audience, being flowing in quality and yet full of feeling. The Schubert-Liszt numbers seemed to be the most popular of the pianists' repertory, while Miss Rogers appeared to her best in the Bach composition. The entire program follows:

Pastorale, (Schubert-Liszt); Cigue in G Minor, (Handel)—Miss Sanders. Gavotte in B Minor, (Chopin)—Miss Sanders. Rondo Capriccioso, (Mendelssohn)—Miss Stewart.

Lacile Chro Pianga, (Rinaldo) (Handel); My Heart Ever Faithful, (Bach)—Miss Rogers. Rhapsody, (Schumann); Arabesque, (Schumann); Etude in C Sharp Minor, (Chopin)—Miss Sanders. Arabesque, (Debussy); Nocturne in B Minor, (Schumann)—Miss Stewart. Lyrics by Robert Browning, (Charles Frohman).

Ah, Love—But A Day I Spent My Heart Up To Thee The Year's At The Spring—Miss Rogers.

'Tis The Sea, (Schubert-Liszt); Consolation, (Liszt); Solres, de Vienne, (Schubert-Liszt)—Miss Stewart. Auf dem Wasser zu steigen, (Schubert-Liszt); Valse Impromptu in A Flat, (Liszt)—Miss Sanders.

All intercollegiate athletics will be suspended at St. Francis College, Lenoir, Pa., next year.
